

TO ARGUE QUASH MOTION FRIDAY

Attorneys Will Attempt to Have Charges Against C. H. & D.
Trainmen in Wreck Dismissed.

YORK AND GROSS INDICTED

Second Investigation by Marion County Grand Jury Proposed
Because of New Evidence.

Motions to quash the charges of manslaughter, made in Marion county grand jury indictments against Carl Gross, brakeman, and Willis York, engineer, because of the C. H. & D. wreck at Irvington, November 13, 1912, will be argued Friday in Indianapolis. Mr. York is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth York, living at 806 West Third street.

Sixteen officials were indicted on the same charge, the contention of the state being that they had failed to comply with orders of the railroad commission to install a block signal system. It is stated by Indianapolis newspapers that new evidence has developed which may result in another investigation by the Marion county grand jury.

R. B. White of Indianapolis, superintendent, is among the sixteen officials indicted. Mr. White's case has been set for trial once, but continued. His case probably will be the first one to come up, as he is the only Indianapolis official and whatever is done in this suit may be taken as a precedent in the other fifteen cases. The second investigation will have the same object as the first, it is said, namely to ascertain whether officials and the "men higher up" were responsible in any way according to the Indianapolis Star. The request for the investigation is expected to come from members of the last grand jury, which returned the indictments. John C. McCloskey was foreman of that grand jury, and he said that he believes information which he understood had been found since the first indictments were returned should be laid before the present grand jury.

The indictments now pending are based on an alleged failure of the railroad officials to install automatic block signals. The indictments were returned by the grand jury under the belief that the state Railroad Commission had not given an extension of time in which the block signals should be installed. Since then it has developed that an order had been made on account of which it would be almost impossible for the state to prosecute successfully the manslaughter cases against the railroad officials.

Mr. McCloskey said that the members of the grand jury which returned the indictment felt that if any one is to blame it should be made known whether there is any law by which they may be held. He said that the previous grand jurors had talked over the question of attempting to get the present grand jury to re-open the investigation.

McCloskey would not say definitely along what lines he believed the second investigation should proceed. He said that he had been watching the progress of cases against officials of the New Haven Railroad Company, who were charged with manslaughter because of a wreck at Westport, Conn., Oct. 3, 1912, and expected to get more information about those cases as a guide for action here. He also called attention to an article appearing in Pearson's Magazine, in which the cases against the C. H. & D. officials, and the action of the Marion County Grand Jury is dis-

WILL GET A FARM EXPERT

Decatur County Will Apply For Appointment Under Act.

A county farm expert, as provided for in one section of the new vocational educational act, is assured for Decatur county if the county's application for the appointment is one of the first thirty, the limit which will be appointed the first year. At a conference with the Decatur county superintendent Saturday afternoon, steps were taken to apply for the appointment. Committees for each township were named. The Greensburg News says the $500 bonus necessary to be raised before application can be made is assured.

ENDS ROMANCE OF HIGH SCHOOL DAYS

Sam Finney, Jr., and Miss Mabel
Brown Hope to Keep Marriage
Secret, but Becomes Known.

NOW AT HOME IN THIS CITY

A wedding which comes as a surprise was solemnized last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, three miles east of Orange, when their daughter, Miss Mabel Brown was united in marriage to Samuel J. Finney, Jr., of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. B. Meacham in the presence of a few friends and the immediate family. Both are well known young people and had hoped to keep the wedding a secret. The wedding is the culmination of a romance started in the local high school. Both were members of the class of 1908 and it was in the local school that they first met. Mr. Finney is engaged in business here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Finney. His bride taught school in the Orange schools since her graduation from the local high school. Mr. and Mrs. Finney are now at home in a newly furnished home in North Perkins street.

HEALTH INSTITUTE OPENS TOMORROW

First Thing on Program Will be Address Before High School Students by Dr. Owen.

DR. HURTY HERE TUES. NIGHT

The health exhibit and institute, under the auspices of the state board of health, will open Tuesday morning at 8:40 o'clock, when Dr. John Owen of the educational department of the state board will address the high school students on the subject, "Conservation of Health." During the remaining hours of the morning the students will go to the court house assembly room where the exhibit will be displayed. Seventh and Eighth grade pupils will see the exhibit Tuesday afternoon and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board, will speak on the topic, "Cause and Prevention of Tuberculosis."

The public is cordially invited by the health authorities to view the exhibit and to attend all of the public meeting. Lectures of prime interest will be given every evening, with the exception of Friday, at St. Paul M. E. church. Every lecture will be illustrated by motion pictures. Absolutely no charge will be made for anything.

PROPOSAL TO TIE UP "DEAD ENDS"

Plan to Build Interurban From Milton Through Connersville to Brookville, With I. & C.

SUBSIDY DISCUSSED AS MEANS

Two Blind Termini Would be Un-stopped and Rich Territory
Would be Opened.

The virtual certainty that the I. & C. traction line is to be extended from Rushville to Brookville in a diagonal line south and south-west of this county has lent a stimulus to the much discussed extension of the Milton line, says the Connersville News. The advantages which that operation would secure are not merely local. They would, it is believed, result in a substantial increase of traffic to all contiguous lines. A glance at the lay of the territory will, it is believed, make the soundness of that opinion plain to even a casual eye.

Running through Cambridge City, from Richmond to Indianapolis, is the thriving T. H. I. & E. road, with ramifications north, east and west. It runs a spur from Cambridge City southward to Milton, where the blind end still lies, pointing like a finger to the greater possibilities down the valley.

From Milton to Connersville the land comes down in a rich, unbroken level over which traction building would be remarkably easy. Here the blind end of the busy I. & C. is also awaiting extension.

From Connersville through East Connersville, southward and south-eastward to Everton, a road would penetrate a thickly populated rural section, which has no rail connections of any sort. The road—the old Connersville-Brookville pike—traverses the spine of a long chain of hills, and it itself far less uneven than might be supposed. From Everton, by a slight swerve eastward, the road could pass through Bentley, and near enough to Fairfield to give that town a logical connection. Thence, almost due southward, the line could pass into Brookville, to connect with the I. & C.

It is pointed out that a road thus built would encounter one group of hills, just north and west of Everton, and would find one long grade necessary as it entered Brookville. All the rest of the way would be so nearly level as to present no particular engineering difficulties. From the city to East Connersville the way could be arranged, and, beginning there, each mile of the line would touch territory where thrift and prosperity are the rule. The road, moreover, would lead into Brookville over ground which is high above the biggest flood, and which would insure that town an outlet which was not the sport of the weather man.

A movement for a subsidy through Connersville township and Jackson township, which the road would traverse in this county, would, it is fully believed, succeed completely and easily. There is not much doubt that a similar movement could be organized to furnish a right-of-way through Franklin county clear to Brookville. From this city northward to Milton, the same plan might be made to operate, thus throwing open to the two lines the warmest and most acceptable of all possible invitations.

CRY OF DISTRESS FROM HAMILTON

"One Touch of Natures Makes the Whole World Kin" is Keynote of Stirring Appeal.

CONTRIBUTIONS OF $1 ASKED

James K. Cullen Well Known and Related Here is Chairman of Relief Committee.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin" is the keynote of the stirring appeal for aid which relief committee of Hamilton, Ohio, has sent to several citizens of Rushville. James K. Cullen, who is related and well known in Rushville, is the chairman of the committee.

Accompanying a circular letter is a red slip, which, in addition to the quotation, says: "In the name of Humanity you are urged to contribute out of your abundance One Dollar, and mail it to the Citizens' Relief Committee, L. P. Clawson, treasurer, Hamilton, Ohio."

It is asserted that Hamilton was the hardest hit city in the flood district and the following figures are cited to prove the assertion: "Loss of life, about 250; loss of property, about 15,000; number of flood victims, 23,000; population of city, 36,000." The circular letter follows:

Hamilton, Ohio, suffered worse than any other city in the flood-swept district. The havoc and ruin are appalling—thousands of workmen are homeless and destitute.

Hamilton, as a city, has civic pluck and credit to repair her public utilities and streets; her manufacturers, while their losses are very great, make no appeal, and they will by their indomitable energy and splendid credit, restore their plants and resume business in the near future. Her merchants whose stores and stocks have been destroyed, will be aided to resume business in other ways.

But the losses of the humble, destitute poor, whose homes and household goods are gone or ruined, cannot be adequately supplied except through outside aid.

The dead are gone—"Requiescat in pace." The thousands of survivors, heart-broken in deep despair, implore your sympathetic assistance. This is a Macedonian Cry—"Come over and help us." Will you and your friends, each of you out of your abundance, contribute one dollar, and mail it quickly to L. P. Clawson, Treasurer Chamber of Commerce and of the Citizens' Relief Committee, Hamilton, Ohio?

In the name of humanity you are urged to pass this appeal along to your friends, for whom five slips are enclosed, to do as you are doing.

God grant a prompt reply.
CITIZENS' RELIEF COMMITTEE.
James K. Cullen, Chairman.
L. P. Clawson, Treasurer.

STILL IN JAIL.

Al C. Varner, the Charlottesville coal and ice dealer who shot Russell Hayes during a brawl in Knightstown and was fined $400 and costs by a jury in Henry circuit court last week, is still in jail in Newcastle. It is undetermined whether he will be able to raise the money or will have to lay out the fine which will be equivalent to 355 days in jail.

TALKS IN PITTSBURGH.

James E. Watson delivered an address before the Americus club of Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday and is not expected home before next Saturday. The club commemorated the birth of U. S. Grant.

WANT TO COMPLETE PLANS

Good Attendance at G. A. R. Meeting Wednesday is Desired.

Officers of Joel Wolf post of the G. A. R. urge that all of the members turn out for the meeting next Wednesday which will be the last opportunity to make arrangements for the Memorial Day exercises. It will be the only meeting before Decoration day. The speaker, A. E. Martin formerly of this city but now of South Bend, has already been engaged to make the annual address. The soldiers will march to East Hill in a body as usual.

FINAL RUSH IS ON FOR TAX PAYING

Treasurer McBride Will Keep Office
Open at Night—Close in Afternoon at 4:30 O'clock.

CHANCE TO BALANCE BOOKS

The final days of spring tax paying are busy ones at the county treasurers office. The rush is now on and will continue until the last day which is the first Monday in May. In order to accommodate the people the office will be open in the evening from 7:15 o'clock until nine o'clock, starting tonight and continuing until the last day. A new rule however will be enforced. County treasurer, Will McBride announces that the office will be closed each afternoon at four-thirty o'clock and will again be opened in the evening. This will give the office force a chance to balance the books and the keeping open at night will not work such a hardship.

Taxpayers desiring to get a statement of taxes before paying them are requested to obtain this before May 1 as the office force will not have time to give the statements after this time. The worst rush is from May 1 until the last day and in order to save time the statements will not be made out after this time. Up until today the taxes were coming in slowly but as the last stretch is reached everyone is trying to get to the office and busy days are ahead.

TO RECEIVE BIDS ON 13 BRIDGES

Commissioners Set Monday, May 26, as Date For Opening Estimates
For New Structures.

BIDS WANTED FOR 2 REPAIRS

The commissioners will hold no more meetings this month and will not be in session again until their first regular meeting next month which falls on May 5. Before adjourning Saturday afternoon the board ordered the advertisement for bids on fifteen bridges, two of which will have to be repaired and thirteen of which will have to be rebuilt as a result of the flood. Bids will be received for these Monday, May 26.

The thirteen bridges which will be rebuilt are: the Sabert Offutt, John Bowles, Lem Hill, John W. Anderson, White, William Booth, U. S. Maffett, Noah Matlock, Frank Capp, A. L. Winslow, F. G. Eubank, L. L. Ferree and E. Meyers. The Arlington and John Julian bridges are to be repaired only.

MAY NAME THEIR FARMS LEGALLY

New Law Gives Farmers Privilege of

THE FEE IS ONE DOLLAR

Another Act Provides For Submitting
Question of Calling Constitutional Convention to People.

The question of calling a constitutional convention will be submitted to the people of the state, according to an act of the last legislature. Another act gives farmers the legal right to select a name for their farms, which can not be used by anyone else. A summary of the two acts is as follows:

Senate Bill 388 (Chapter 304,) approved March 15, provides for submitting to popular vote the question of calling a constitutional convention to meet at Indianapolis in November, 1915. If a convention is decided upon, delegates are to be elected in March, 1915. All nominations shall be by petition, and no political party shall nominate delegates. They shall meet at the hall of the house of representatives, be sworn, and enjoy the same privilege and immunities in attending upon the convention as members of the general assembly. The convention shall not remain in session longer than 180 days, Sundays excepted. The convention shall have power to call a special election at which to submit the question of adopting or rejecting the new Constitution to be prepared by it. But if the convention makes no such provisions, the succeeding general assembly shall do so. Ballots and blanks shall be prepared and election officers compensated as is now provided by law for general elections. There is no emergency clause.

House Bill 31 (Chapter 22,) approved February 19, provides for the registration of farm names in the office of the county recorder. A farm owner may record the "name of his farm, together with a description of his lands to which the name applies," paying $1 for having it entered in the register of farm names to be kept by the recorder; and thereafter "such name shall not be recorded as the name of any other farm in the same county." The owner is to be

In India the women still go down to the river banks and wash clothes by rubbing them over stones.

But they are no farther behind the times than the American women who still boil clothes and hard-rub them on a washboard.

The truly modern way of washing is the Fels-Naptha way. No boiling to weaken the fiber; no hard rubbing to wear and tear. Work saved, time saved, fuel saved, clothes cleaner.

TERRIBLE PRIVATIONS ATTEND LONG SIEGE

Scutari Was Like a Place of the Dead.

London, April 28.—Having gone into Scutari with the first 5,000 Montenegrins, a correspondent telegraphs that the horrors of the war were everywhere visible. Here were men who were killed in the last assault on the mountain fortress, drying in the sun. Terrible odors horrified the scene. Tarakasch was practically impregnable. If Essad Pasha had been furnished with food and ammunition it might have been defended indefinitely.

"The siege was horrible in its effects," says the correspondent. "The faces of the children haunt me. They were starved and withered. Old men sat in the dust watching the conquerors with uncomprehending eyes. The bazaar was like a place of the dead. The shops were full at the beginning of the siege, but were gradually depleted until January, when the government commandeered everything for the soldiers. The shops had been shut since February. The privations were terrible in the last weeks of the siege. The people were starving, but purchased whatever they could at famine prices. Bread at $1.25 a pound, which was made of sawdust and straw, was eaten toward the end.

"The plight of the very poor people was fearful. Some of them ate grass and any filthy rubbish in order to fill their stomachs. Almost 300 died of starvation. There were 1,000 men sick and wounded in the garrison and just one day's food was left before the surrender."

The correspondent goes on to say that Prince Danilo on making his official entry on April 25 said: "We have taken Scutari and nothing shall drive us out." The correspondent says the Montenegrin occupation is now complete. All the offices have been filled. The Russian consul has received orders from St. Petersburg to recognize the Montenegrin occupation.

MR. BRYAN HAS BIG JOB AHEAD

Faces a Strange Situation in California.

PARTISANISM CROPPING OUT

With Progressive Governor and Progressive Leaders in Legislature Demanding Alien Land Laws Which They Resisted During Both Roosevelt and Taft Administrations, Democrats Are Wondering What Is Up.

Sacramento, Cal., April 28.—Sunday the Progressive leaders from both houses conferred with Governor Johnson and agreed that no action should be taken in regard to the conference today until Secretary of State Bryan arrived and expressed his wishes. It is said this action was taken in deference to the vigorous criticism of Democrats in the legislature.

When Mr. Bryan arrives today he will be met by Governor Johnson and taken to the executive mansion, where his wishes in regard to a conference on the alien land legislation will be learned by the governor and will be communicated to both houses. The Democrats, although very sore over the governor's actions, decided not to send any representative up the road to see Bryan. They will wait to submit their case until the secretary reaches here.

It has been learned that President David Starr Jordan of Stanford university has been summoned by Mr. Bryan to meet him at Sacramento for a conference on the alien land bill. Dr. Jordan is on intimate terms with Japanese leaders, and he probably knows better than any other Californian the sentiment of Japan toward this proposed bill.

The Democrats here are thoroughly wrought up over Governor Johnson's plans to capture Bryan and discuss the whole question in a conference which will be strictly Bull Moose, without any Democratic tincture.

A story is going the rounds on the authority of one who was present at the conference that when the reply of Johnson to the dispatch of President Wilson was being discussed, someone remarked that as the president had sent a polite message it was up to Johnson to be equally polite in his reply and not to come out flatfooted with a declaration of state's rights. Johnson is said to have remarked "To hell with Wilson," and to have turned to his secretary and ordered him to file the dispatch, which was sent to Washington.

There are several versions of the mysterious message sent by Colonel Roosevelt last week to Governor Johnson and which the governor has refused to make public. One says that it cautioned Johnson not to pass any alien land bills until the Panama canal was fortified, as in case Japan resented this action she would be able to destroy all the work that has been done at Panama.

Another version, which comes from a very good source, is that Colonel Roosevelt approved of the passage of an alien land bill at this time, as it would compel congress to make liberal appropriations for a strong navy which he declared this country needs now more than ever before. Whatever may be the real wording of this message it will probably never be known, as Colonel Roosevelt has refused to divulge it.

The chance of policy of the leaders of the majority here is being made the subject of much discussion at this time. When Presidents Roosevelt and Taft advised against the enactment of alien land laws similar to the ones that have been proposed at this session of the legislature, it was the men who are now favoring a drastic alien land law who were the first to accede to the wishes of the chief executive. They were Republican presidents, and at that time the leaders in the legislature were Republicans.

LONDON CROWD MOB SUFFS

Women's Appearance in Hyde Park Signal For Riots.

London, April 28.—There were more disorders in Hyde Park Sunday in attempts of suffragettes to hold meetings. The disorders lasted six hours. The women did not attempt to hold a meeting, but appeared in the park waving flags and screaming "Votes for Women." Wherever they appeared the crowds rushed them and seized the flags. The police hastened to protect the women and were only in the nick of time in several instances. Some of the women were bombarded with clouds of turf.

The cricket pavilion at Perth was burned early Sunday morning. The loss is $6,250. It is supposed the fire was started by suffragettes, but there is no positive proof of this.

Conductors Want More Pay.

New York, April 28.—Over 100,000 railroad employees, railway conductors and railway trainmen, on fifty-four eastern lines, are interested in the negotiations begun here between their representatives and the railroad managers over the demand for an increase in wages. The conductors are represented by A. B. Garretson and the trainmen by W. G. Lee. Elisha Lee represents the railroad managers.

Several Reasons Why You Should Buy Your Next Buggy From Us

First:—We keep the most complete stock of buggies in Rush Co. and you have more to make a selection from. Second:—We guarantee every buggy we sell and if any thing goes wrong with one of them it is promptly fixed and no rag chewing about it. We are just as anxious to fix a buggy when it goes wrong as we are to sell it to you in the first place. Third:—We always show the new styles far in advance of our competitors. Fourth:—We buy a large number of buggies at a time and by doing this we buy them at a price that enables us to sell you a buggy cheaper than the small buyer. And last but not least we want your business, and if you give us a chance we are going to give you the kind of buggies and the kind of treatment that will make you one of our satisfied customers. We have just received a car of buggies of the latest style and they are different from anything you have ever looked at and we want you to see them. Think this proposition over and when you get ready to buy a buggy, come in and see what we can do for you.

THE TARIFF BILL IS BEING RUSHED

Congress Hopes to Have It Enacted July 1.

RAPID PROGRESS IN HOUSE

It Now Is Expectation That Revenue Measure Will Be Sent to Senate by the End of the Week and With Senate Leaders Working in Co-Operation With the President Equal Expedition Is Expected on That Side.

Washington, April 28.—That the Underwood tariff bill will become a law on or about July 1, Democratic leaders are now pretty confident. They base their belief upon the expedition with which the measure is being handled in the house, and information that the bill will be put through the senate in record time.

Accordingly the leaders have about reached the conclusion that an opportunity will be afforded at this session to revise the banking and currency laws. It is the president's wish that there shall be legislation of the kind at this time. Present indications are that the Underwood bill will be passed by the house next Saturday, May 3.

With the senate leaders working in close co-operation with the president, the belief is quite general that if the house disposes of the bill Saturday the measure will be in the hands of the president by July 1 or a few days later.

General debate on the Underwood bill will be concluded in the house to-night, after which the measure will be taken up under the five-minute rule.

On two propositions at least the president will not consent to changes in the bill. He will stand pat on free raw wool and the section that provides for a gradual reduction in the duty on sugar for a period of three years, at the expiration of which time the product is to be admitted free.

Other changes that have been made are in line with views originally expressed on the subject by Mr. Wilson. For example, there is a sentiment in the house that with meats on the free list the 10 per cent rate on cattle should be removed. There also is strong sentiment favorable to the free admission of wheat and the elimination of the reciprocal provision of flour, making that product duty free in fact. If the agricultural schedule is attacked as indicated there is bound to be a merry time in both the house and the senate.

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION

Washington Has No New Developments in Japanese Impreglio.

Washington, April 28.—Not the slightest change in the attitude of Japan toward the threatened anti-alien land laws in California has taken place since Secretary Bryan left for Sacramento. Sensational published reports that Ambassador Chinda had reiterated in a most insistent manner the displeasure of the mikado over any alleged discrimination against his subjects were denied at the White House and the state department. The Japanese protest against the proposed alien land laws was made to the United States government more than two weeks ago, and no other representations have been made by Ambassador Chinda since that time, according to Washington officials. Great interest was manifested here in reports from Sacramento that Governor Johnson is planning an anti-alien law more radical even than was first proposed.

IN CONTEMPT OF THE HOUSE

Washington Banker Must Answer For Slapping Congressman.

Washington, April 28.—The special house committee which investigated the assault by Charles C. Glover, a local banker, on Representative Sims of Tennessee reported it had found Glover in contempt of the house and recommended that the speaker issue a warrant for his arrest to answer that charge. Chairman Davis of West Virginia said he would call it up for action as soon as the house had disposed of the tariff bill.

GIRL LURED TO HER DEATH

Atlanta Stirred by Discovery of a Horrid Crime.

Atlanta, Ga., April 28.—Lured some time Saturday night to the National Pencil factory building in the heart of Atlanta, pretty Mary Pragan, aged fourteen, was ravished and then murdered.

Her body was lowered from the first floor through a cubby hole into the basement. It was discovered Sunday morning.

Detectives think the girl was lured into the building by three unknown young whites with whom she was seen Saturday night.

Death List Now Complete.

Pittsburg, April 28.—When the emergency rescue crew of the government bureau of mines was withdrawn from the Cincinnati mine of the Pittsburg Coal company near Finleyville there had been ninety-four bodies removed and two miners taken out alive. The mine has been explored thoroughly and all bodies are out.

ABORTIVE UPRISING AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Another Revolution In Portugal Has Failed.

Lisbon, April 28.—Late last night the city was startled by an abortive uprising against the government. Revolvers were fired off and bombs exploded in the streets, but nobody is known to have been hurt. There were about 150 arrests made.

The leader of the outbreak does not appear to be known. It was apparently not a monarchist result, although some unofficial monarchists almost certainly were mixed up in the affair.

The chief responsibility for the outbreak is laid on a section of disgruntled Republicans, and the affair evidently was very poorly organized. It seems that those responsible for it depended on their success on an off chance of the soldiers responding to an appeal of the conspirators, but only a few of the troops joined those who started the demonstration.

At a preconcerted signal bombs were exploded and revolvers fired in various parts of the city late at night. Shortly afterward about 100 men under the leadership of Captain Diaz collected at the radical Republican federation.

The headquarters of the federation were surrounded by police. A quantity of arms was discovered and arrests were made. Other houses were searched and a quantity of green, white and red armlets, which were designed to be used as revolutionary badges, were seized.

NEW BRITISH AMBASSADOR

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice Has Arrived on This Side the Water.

New York, April 28.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the new British ambassador to Washington, arrived Sunday by the Cunarder Carmania, from Liverpool. Sir Cecil is not a big man physically, but the impression of his fellow voyagers is that his intellectual height is unequalled by any other man in the diplomatic service.

Sir Cecil was unwilling to talk about anything bordering on politics or statesmanship. He said he was not unfamiliar with Washington, as he had been many years ago secretary to the British embassy there. He had a long talk with Mr. Bryce, the retiring ambassador, today, on topics concerning his office. Tomorrow he will go to Washington. His family will join him later.

Sir Cecil is fifty-four years old, but looks younger. He acted as best man at the second marriage of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in 1886 and saw much of the colonel when the latter was civil service commissioner and assistant secretary of the navy.

Wheat and the Tariff.

The communication produced herewith, which was addressed to the Lawrenceburg Register by B. J. Rathwell president of the Lawrenceburg Roller Mills Co., indicates how the Democratic administration tariff bill, which this session of congress proposes to pass, will damage American wheat growers. The communication urges farmers, if possible, to arouse sentiment at once to urge congressmen to vote against this particular provision of the measure.

Rush county farmers should be quick to see the logic of the following article and act on its advice:

When the farmer in such great wheat growing states as Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota and the Dakotas realizes how the apparent protection of ten cents per bushel upon foreign wheat and the admission of foreign milled flour duty free affects the earnings of his farm, there is sure to be an outcry that will make itself unmistakably heard in Washington.

The truth is that under the present provision of the Underwood bill there will be no tax upon foreign grown wheat. Foreign farmers, working themselves, or employing labor at a mere pittance, would reap the greatest benefit from this legislation because, in effect, it allows foreign grown wheat to enter the markets of the United States duty free, provided its products are made by foreign labor in a foreign mill.

The result will be an enormous increase in the number and grinding capacity of flour mills in Canada, Argentina, Australia and other wheat growing countries, and especially in Great Britain, whose flour mills located upon the docks of her principal ports draw wheat by water from all over the world. These mills can, for example, buy wheat in Buenos Ayres, freight it by water to Liverpool or other British port, grind it into flour, ship the flour to New York or other American seaboard market, and sell the flour there at least forty cents per barrel lower than a United States mill located, say, in New York, Philadelphia or Baltimore could manufacture the same grade of flour from the same wheat or from wheat grown in the United States.

The Canadian millers likewise could flood the interior and seaboard markets of the United States with flour fully as much below the base cost price of the United States miller selling in competition.

When it is realized that the average net profit of the flour mills of the United States hardly exceeds five cents per barrel on their annual product, the impossibility of competing with the foreign mills under the conditions which this act provides may clearly be realized.

While the immediate result will be the destruction of the American flour milling industry, the American flour miller driven out of the markets of the United States can no longer be a buyer of wheat, therefore the ultimate and quickly following result will be to force the American farmer to sell his wheat upon the level of prices fixed by the underpaid, underfed labor of Russia, South America, India and other countries whose standards of living are far below that of the American farmer.

Therefore, the salvation of the American wheat grower depends upon the preservation of the American milling industry, which asks no favor but simply seeks an equal opportunity with foreign millers in our own home markets.

Every farmer is vitally interested in this question and he should therefore lose no time in communicating his views to the Congressman from his district and to the United States Senators from his State. He should arouse his neighbors to the gravity of the situation and through his local farmers' associations or granges utter a loud and insistent protest.

The tax on foreign wheat does not help the American farmer, unless there is an equal tax on the products of foreign wheat.

As the Underwood Bill is now well on its way toward passage, any action to be effective must be immediate.

MOTION FRIDAY

cussed. If the investigation proceeds along the lines suggested in the article it would involve the financial operations of the road, and the manipulations of its capital stock and bonds.

Another source of information which has been watched by members of the previous grand jury since they were discharged is the trial of damage suits against the company because of the wreck. McCloskey said that in the trial of a recent suit he understood that evidence had been introduced to show that reports about the switch light where the wreck occurred being out had been made hours before the wreck, but it had not been lighted at the time of the wreck.

Before the investigation which resulted in the indictment had taken the turn toward the block signal system the grand jury is said to have had information that the grade of coal on the freight engine was not good, and members of the jury are said to have believed that that was one reason the freight train could not keep its schedule and had to "split" and go onto the Irvington siding to allow the passenger to pass instead of following orders to pass at Julietta.

Reports in Indianapolis have been current during the last few days to the effect that the state expected to file a motion to nol pros the indictments against the C., H. & D. officials, the report saying the information was published in Cincinnati, O. Prosecutor Baker says he has never been interviewed on the question, and has not made any such statements. He said that he did not know just what will be done when the cases are called for trial. Judge Markey of Criminal Court said yesterday that such motion, if filed, will not be sustained until after he knows the reasons for such action.

TO OIL STREETS BY PRIVATE CONTRACT

Richmond People Propose to Avoid Delay Which Would Come Complying With New Law.

BOARD OF WORKS WILL HELP

Street sprinkling with oil under private agreement, was arranged by the board of public works this morning, says the Richmond Item. In cases where resident property owners refuse to enter into the arrangements whereby the contractor is to be paid voluntarily, the board will proceed under the state law, which recognizes this as an improvement, the cost of which is assessable pro rata.

Charles Davis, of Connersville, who sprinkled certain streets of the city, last summer, under private arrangement, and who says he lost considerable money in the venture, has offered to undertake similar work again, taking personal security in preference to waiting until the provisions of the law can be complied with. The preparation of the formal notices, assessment rolls, etc., would delay the beginning of the sprinkling, perhaps until late in June.

SCHOOL CONDEMNED.

Shelbyville Democrat: Trustee Charles Jackson, of Van Buren township, was served with a notice today by Dr. J. W. Parrish, county health commissioner, that the state board of health has condemned the school building at Fountaintown and that it must not be used for school purposes next year. The notice was given Mr. Jackson while he was in this city today on a business trip.

Cross Complaint in The Brosius Divorce Case Makes Some Startling Allegations.

CO-RESPONDENTS ARE NAMED

Mrs. Brosius Asks For $5,000 Alimony and Custody of Their Two Children.

Walter G. Brosius, of Knightstown, who was recently sued by his wife, Rebecca J., for a divorce has filed a cross complaint, alleging that she has been guilty of a statutory offense, the Newcastle Courier. Two co-respondents are named in the complaint, and the case promises to be one of the sensational variety.

Porter Anderson, drug clerk for Vern Wink, the Knightstown druggist, who was fined $75 and costs in circuit court last week for violating the liquor laws, is named as one of the two co-respondents and Robert Larimore is named as the other. The cross complaint also sets out that Mrs. Brosius is guilty of many offenses, but no specific dates or persons are named.

Mrs. Brosius recently filed a suit for divorce and asked for $5,000 alimony and $50 a month with which to support her two children. She alleged abandonment and non-support and asked that a restraining order be issued to keep her husband from disposing of some property. The restraining order was granted by Judge Jackson and Brosius was ordered to pay $5 a week to Mrs. Brosius during the trial of the case.

Charles Swain of Knightstown, attorney for Mrs. Brosius, filed a written motion with Judge Jackson to strike out certain portions of the cross complaint, but Judge Jackson overruled the motion. He then filed a motion to make the complaint more specific as to the dates. According to the complaint the acts were committed in March of this year.

In his cross complaint Brosius asks that he be given the custody of two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Brosius were married in March, 1909, and separated in September, 1912.

JURORS DRAWN UNDER NEW LAW

Both Petit and Grand Juries Named According to Act of Recent Legislature.

VERY LITTLE DIFFERENCE

The grand jury and the petit jury for the May term of court, which opens next Monday were drawn this morning. No time has yet been given for the juries to report. The names of the jurors were drawn for the first time under the new law as passed by the last legislature. The manner of drawing differs but little from the old way, the only difference being that the names are drawn publicly. Under this law the judge is given the right to dismiss the petit jury after four weeks of service and order another panel drawn. Farmers, especially at this time of the year do not fancy jury service but under this law no hardship will be worked as they will not be compelled to serve the entire twelve weeks of court if the judge sees fit to order another panel.

OPERATION BY A NOTED SPECIALIST

Little Blue Ridge Girl Will Have to Lie in Cast for Nine Long Months.

TROUBLE EXISTED AT BIRTH

Freda, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Callahan, of the Blue Ridge vicinity, was operated upon Sunday at the home of her parents by Dr. John Ridlin, of Chicago, one of the most noted surgeons in this country, assisted by Dr. S. Kennedy of Shelbyville, and Dr. G. I. Inlow of Blue Ridge, for a congenital dislocation of the hip, an operation for this being one of the most difficult known to the medical profession and performed with success in only very recent years, says the Shelbyville News.

A dislocation of the kind named is one which exists at birth. Up to this time the operation seems to have been very successful, the child resting very easy Sunday night. After such an operation it is necessary for the patient to lie in a cast for nine months.

This is the second operation of the kind in this country, both being by the same doctor from Chicago. The first was performed seven years ago on Miss Glen Fettig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fettig, now of Connersville. Miss Fettig was at Blue Ridge Sunday for Dr. Ridlin to see her, the first time since he did the surgical work upon her. She is now completely recovered and well.

WOULD TIMES TAKE TAGGART.

Newcastle Times: The Indianapolis Star is supporting W. K. Stewart for mayor; the News is supporting John W. Holtzman, while Joe Bell has no newspaper for him and nobody is for him excepting Tom Taggart and the voters. If you were running for mayor over there, which support would you rather have?

The Rev. A. O. Cook of Franklin, Ind., will preach Tuesday night at the First Baptist church.

Amusements

The Palace will show a Vitagraph drama "The Soldiers Dream" for the first film tonight. The other is an Imp comedy "The Brave Policeman." Both are said to be good pictures.

The Princess will show a Kalem drama "A Life in the Balance" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a thrilling picture and features Carlyle Blackwell. The other is an Essanay comedy entitled "Bound to Occur." Tomorrow night a feature Biograph "A Father's Lesson" will be shown.

William Hodge, whose quaint portrayal of the character of Daniel Voorhees Pike in "The Man From Home" carried that play through six seasons of success, will be seen at the Shubert-Murat, Indianapolis, during the week of April 28th, in a new play entitled, "The Road to Happiness," a comedy drama sounding the cheerful note of optimism, in a story of homely qualities, peopled with characters such as are found in every small community and told with simple directness and flashes of humorous philosophy that carry an irresistible appeal. The scene of the play is a village in Northern New York and its story involves the types of character common to the small communities of the semi-rural sections of the country. Placed in contrast in the development of the plot are the village banker, sauve and calculating in his vain attempt to win the love of a village belle; the minister whose clerical work is based largely on and in favor of the chief contributors to his support; the town magnate who by virtue of his wealth and position seeks to order to his own measure the actions of his family and also of all his neighbors as well; these and other types make up the round of characters in which Jim Whitman as played by Mr. Hodge, becomes, by the strength of his character and by his cheerful willingness to give his wise aid and advice to those in trouble, a dominant figure. Whitman's introduction is in the role of a country boy who has only a cheerful belief in himself, an unyielding faith in the triumph of truth and an inviolable mother. How Jim loves the daughter of the village magnate, how her father plots to force her into marriage with the banker, how a conspiracy is formed to rid the town of Jim by giving him a coat of tar and feathers and the primitive ride upon a rail and how Jim turns the tables upon his enemies and brings them in the end to recognize him in his true nature are the elements of a story in which heart interests, humor, homely philosophy and stirring incidents are deftly mingled. Mr. Hodge's character work has been likened by many critics to that of the late Sol Smith Russell and in method and personality these actors have much in common. "The Road to Happiness" gives to Mr. Hodge a vehicle in which he is at his best and Mr. Lee Shubert, under whose direction he appears, has provided every accessory in scenic equipment and a company of rare and unusual excellence.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY OF THE SEA DISCLOSEDWreckage Points to Loss of Unknown Vessel.

Philadelphia, April 28.—That there has been another tragedy of the sea was discovered by the officers and crew of the German steamship Euphemis, which has just arrived in port. Captain Jordt reported that on April 13 he had sighted in latitude 36:22, longitude 74:21 an empty raft and the following day the body of a drowned seaman.

That the raft had been improvised by the crew that had perished was evident from the fact that it bore a stake ten feet high which had been used to attract the attention of passing vessels.

Other articles of ship's furniture and woodwork were scattered about for quite a distance, and the Euphemis's crew thought the disaster was likely that of a schooner which had been run down by a larger vessel or had lost its way in some of the recent storms that have been raging across the Atlantic.

Colonel Chubb Dies Suddenly.
Galveston, Tex., April 28.—Colonel Charles St. J. Chubb of the Seventh Infantry died suddenly at noon Sunday in camp at Fort Crockett, of heart failure. Colonel Chubb participated in several Indian campaigns, was with the American troops who marched to Pekin during the Boxer rebellion, and served through the Spanish-American war and in the Philippines. His widow lives at Fort Leavenworth.

Chester Osborn Sentenced.
Princeton, Ind., April 28.—Judge Vandever sentenced Chester Osborn of Oakland City to the state reformatory for from two to twenty-one years. Osborn pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill his cousin, William Osborn, an Oakland City druggist.

He Hesitated and Was Killed.
Greensburg, Ind., April 28.—Lewis Evans, fifteen years old, a high school student, was run down and killed by an I. & C. traction car while attempting to cross a bridge. The boy became confused and hesitated before running to the end of the bridge, where he stumbled and was struck.

An Old School Dominie.
I examined the contents of the satchel of a schoolboy of tender years the other day and found it to contain sixteen books of study. The textbooks covered a wide curriculum, and the perusal of them awakened in me sympathy for the schoolboy, together with a feeling of thankfulness that my own schooldays had been passed in a more stern if less strenuous age, when laws were more in evidence than textbooks. I mentioned this subject to an old highlander whose schooldays date away back to the "hungry forties," and he assured me that in those days he trudged to school with a Bible in one oter and a peat for the schoolroom fire in the other. The Bible was the only book possessed by each of the scholars, and it had to serve for all purposes. As a reading book place names occurred which baffled alike the tongues of schoolmaster and pupils to pronounce. The master never was known to admit defeat, however, for, recognizing that "discretion is the better part of valor," he would extricate a halting reader by observing sagely: "Pass it on, my lad. Ye'll never be there."—Glasgow News.

They Both Wore Beards.
"It's a strain in bindery work not to make mistakes," a girl worker told Mary Van Kleeck, the author of "Women In the Bookbinding Trade." "A book is easily spoiled. I know a girl that put a picture of Longfellow in a copy of 'As You Like It.' Nobody knew it until she looked in another girl's book that had a picture of Shakespeare. 'Well,' she said, 'that doesn't look like the picture I pasted. He was a funny looking man, but not as funny as that.'"

The reader who has come to a full stop in the middle of a book or of a magazine article because the "signatures" are mixed may be in no forgiving mood with the girl who doesn't know Longfellow's beard from Shakespeare's, but he may have some sympathy with the fatigue and monotony of factory work. Another girl put it tersely: "When you do one thing all day you lose the feeling in your fingers. You are likely to pick up two sheets at a time."

No College Degree in Brazil.
Brazilian law, it is claimed, prohibits the establishment of any university because "the conferring of academic distinctions is contrary to the principles of true democracy." There are many institutions in Brazil where medicine and law are taught, and these grant certificates of proficiency to pupils who complete the course in a satisfactory manner. But, however well qualified he may be, no Brazilian can legally get a degree in his own country of a doctor of medicine or of law.

Too Vigorous.
Vicar (to sexton)—That pulpit cushion is worn out, Edward. I wish you would see that a new one is put on. Edward (grimly)—Yes, sir; I know it be worn out, an' it's the third one this year. It ain't my place to pass remarks, sir, but in my opinion there's such a thing as carryin' religion a lee-tie too far!—London Opinion.

Artificial Ears.
Artificial ears are so skillfully made that they may with difficulty be distinguished from natural ones, it is claimed. When the individual who has lost an ear applies to the manufacturer for a substitute, there is made a mold of the remaining ear. If there be left any part of the other a mold of that part also must be taken to assist in the fitting of the artificial. Manufacturers assert that no two ears are alike and that it takes a skillful workman to prepare an ear from the mold or molds. When finished the new ear is pasted on the stump or simply set in the position of the lost ear. It is really only the first artificial ear that is expensive, the chief cost pertaining to the making of the mold. Vulcanized rubber, which can be bent and twisted, has been found to constitute the best material for the making of artificial ears.—Harper's Weekly.

WOOLTEX SUIT WEEK

An Exposition in the Leading Styles in Tailormade Suits for American Women

It used to be said of Wooltex styles that they were close copies of custom-made garment. Nowadays we find that custom tailors are copying Wooltex styles.

If you will look through the gathering of Wooltex Suits, specially prepared for this week, you cannot fail to see the difference between Wooltex and even the best of other tailor-made suits.

The difference is plain to any eye, but it is made even plainer by the test of service. It is not alone that Wooltex suits look better than others—there is also the fact that Wooltex keeps on looking better. Wooltex style gives appearance; Wooltex tailoring and materials give the lastingness.

Our Showing of This Week is the largest we have ever made. It is an object lesson in the highest class tailoring for women done in America; an exposition of distinctive, but dignified style and a demonstration of true values and economics in suit-buying.

WILL PLAY FIRST GAME NEXT SUNDAY

Locals Will Open Home Season With Connersville Team as the Attraction.

"CHICK" AVERY WILL PITCH

The baseball season in this city will be formally opened next Sunday with a game with the fast Connersville team. This decision has been reached by the local management after considerable debate on what would be the most desirable opening date and it was decided that next Sunday would be suitable for a starter. The grand stand has been repaired and it is hoped to have the grounds in shape by next Sunday.

The lineup of the locals for the first game is yet uncertain but Captain Cook has secured several good players and expects to land several more good ones. "Chick" Avery will be on the mound for Rushville and this alone should prove sufficient to attract a large crowd. "Chick" made many friends here by his work last year and the fans will welcome him to the home lot. Cook promises to spring a surprise with a battery mate for "Chick." He has a youngster lined up to do the catching and he is said to be a wonder. The fans will be disappointed in not having Earl Halterman back in the lineup. "Hal" has organized a team at St. Paul, Ind., and will not wear a Rushville uniform this year. A good left fielder has been secured and the team can get along without Halterman. Cook will be here soon and more about the line-up will be shown then.

substantial feeder in both directions, to the main lines which it would tie together. It would relieve the congestion of two dead traction ends, and bridge a wide expanse of country which needs and wants a rail connection north and south perhaps worse than any other in Indiana.

It is known that when the tentative movement in this direction takes more definite form, there are local capitalists who will not be found sleep. Not merely local energy will speak, but local money will speak, and, as the voice of money always is, the tones will be loud and clear.

GOT HIS START PULLING PLOW

Jimmy Swi, Pacer From O. E. Hume's Farm, Pulls Down a Big Sum.

TRAINED BY MART WILSON

Showed Mile Last Season in 2:06½ With Last Half in 1:02—Paces Half at Two-Minute Clip.

George A. Ryan, the well known Indiana horse authority, has the following in the Indianapolis Sunday Star concerning a pacer raised by a Rush county farmer:

One of the important transactions of the week was the sale of the fast green pacer Jimmy Swi, by Bon Patch, 2:24¼. This free-legged fellow was owned by O. E. Hume of Rushville, Ind., and was trained last year by Mart Wilson over the Indianapolis track with the result that he showed a mile in 2:06½, with the last half in 1:02 and another mile around 2:07, with the last half at a two-minute gait.

Henry Schreiber of Pittsburgh, Pa., and his trainer, Fred Jamison, looked the fellow over and planked down a goodly sum for him and he was shipped to Washington, Pa., where Jamison will get him ready for the races this year. Mart would liked to have raced him, but Mr. Hume does not care much about the racing end. He has a big farm, breeds a few good colts each year, works them on the farm, and, if any of them shows speed, the colt is developed and sold. Last spring Jimmy Swi was used to do the plowing and planting, and after the crops were all in Mr. Hume sent him to Wilson. The farm work had put him in fine physical condition, and it was not long before Mart was riding some fast miles. It was this kind of work that made the great pair of pacers, Hedgewood Boy, 2:01, and Lady Maud C., 2:00½, full brother and sister, and it would not be surprising to see Jimmy Swi develop into another of that type.

Farm work never injures a well-bred horse, and this is not the first speed horse that Mr. Hume has developed in this manner. Some of the other Indiana farm owners could pattern after Mr. Hume to good advantage. The latter declares that the trotting bred horses make the best kind of farm horses, and if they happen to develop race-horse speed then he is that much ahead of the game. The owner of the farm pays their way and the speed is all profit. Mart has several green ones in his stable this year that he expects will make a good showing in the green classes. One is a trotting mare by Onward Silver 2:05¼ that is set down as a 2:10 prospect; another is Elwood C., a trotter by Major C., 2:04, that could beat 2:15 last fall and trot quarters at a 2:08 gait, and still another is Little Harry, by Kellar Thomas, which has been miles around 2:16 and is a full brother to Little Trouble, 2:14¼, that was a good winner on the Indiana half-mile tracks a few seasons ago.

PLANT BROKE DOWN.

The heating plant of the St. Paul M. E. church broke down yesterday and the usual Sunday services could not be held. Members of the Sunday school visited other schools. The Rev. W. H. Wylie, the pastor, preached at the Main Street Christian church in the evening.

SHOWING UP REFORMERS.

Newcastle Times: A number of newspapers that are red-hot reform between campaigns have been crowing over the fact that Taggart's candidate for postmaster at Indianapolis was not named. But along comes Representative Korbly, who says that Taggart was not for Moore, the unsuccessful candidate, but for Springsteen, who received the place. And then comes Taggart and says that he declined to recommend either man and took no part in the contest, because both applicants were good men and both his friends.
